Pacific Ballroom Dance Shares “A Little Good” This Holiday Season

Pacific Ballroom Dance (PBD) is excitedly wrapping up preparations for their annual Winter Concert as dancers return to the stage at Auburn Performing Arts Center on November 30th and December 1st at 7pm. “A Little Good” highlights students ages 3 to 18 as they share the gift of Ballroom dance to uplift spirits at the Auburn Performing Arts Center on 702 4th St. Northeast. Guest performers include Championship level Latin competitors and Aida Dance ambassadors Logan Crisostomo and Ema Morgovsky.

“Denzel Washington said, ‘At the end of the day its not about what you have or even what you've accomplished... It's about who you've lifted up, who you've made better. It's about what you've given back.’ The dancers of Pacific Ballroom Dance are celebrating the holiday season by giving the gift of dance. The show ‘A Little Good’ explores the impact we can have by reaching out and sharing joy with those we love”, says Katie Mecham, PBD Artistic Director.

Performances will include high energy latin dance numbers, an opening number that will ripple smiles throughout the audience and inspirational ballroom choreography from over 11 Ballroom Dance formation teams. These performances will transport your imagination and inspire you to carry out its message.

"To me, our concert theme means being considerate and welcoming to everyone. Whether it's saying 'hello' to someone or giving a compliment. Even small acts of kindness can make a huge impact which can build friendships and better our community. This concert I'm most excited to perform and captivate the audience with our dancing. To tell a story through dance and inspire others." Faith Martin, Youth B Performing Team. Come see Faith and the rest of the performing company this season in "A Little Good".

Pacific Ballroom Dance (PBD) began in 1994 as a small, local youth club with a goal to provide young teens with the opportunity to build respectful social skills, self-esteem, fitness and teamwork. In 2003, PBD became a 501©3 non-profit organization with a mission to build character in youth by providing a positive ballroom dance experience. Today, PBD is a thriving youth dance education studio based in Auburn, Washington, serving more than 1000 students annually from age 10-18 from throughout the Puget Sound area.
